

NEW BOND

design Matteo Nunziati
2018

The name of this elegant double-size bed refers to the famous Bond Street in London. The headboard sports a detail that is original, distinctive, and extremely difficult to reproduce. The design has been softened with a 'belt' effect that intersects in two points on the headboard: a decorative motif that expresses the tailoring skills matured in the 40 years of Flou's professional experience. The bed can be covered in fabric or leather, while the 'belts' are always and exclusively produced in leather. It is available with a storage base, a fixed base or a base with an electrical movement mechanism.
