

MACHARD

TABLE

Machard is a sculptural table, with an hourglass-shaped steel base that gives it a sense of lightness and elegance.

The base is 'woven' with taut ropes that partially envelop it, drawing alternating upward and downward rays that create a visual illusion in which the table seems to float.

A skilful weave that becomes the distinctive decorative element of the design.

The rope work is available in red, green, grey, mud and mélange to match the round top in glass (transparent, smoked or bronzed), marble (natural polished Carrara white, natural Verde Lepanto, natural polished Calacatta gold, polished Roman Empire) or natural iroko wood.

Machard is also available in an indoor version.
